JAMIE MCBRIDE A Scottish Tenor

In this CD, I sing a range of my favourite Giacomo Puccini arias from various operas. I have in the past, sung with various companies, Rsnoc, Edinburgh grand opera, Edinburgh Southern light opera and Allegro. I have recently also recorded my "Scottish song album, special jacobite edition" now available. In earlier years I was the singer in a rock band called Tartan touring in the middle east while working in the oil industry. After completing my tours in the middle east I entered into business and raised my family in Edinburgh where my musical time at Napier University, various vocal teachers, summer school master classes and my training association with the late maestro Franco Corelli in Florence, are past highlights in my life to be fondly remembered.
